

Welcome to Fall!

September 2016

I hope that the crazy heat and humidity of this summer is finally over. I am completely ready for fall weather, where being outside is truly enjoyable.

A group of us met last month at Lynda Elias's house and we have come up with some great speakers for the new season. I am really excited about our line-up and I hope you will be, too. Not all of them have been confirmed yet, but so far, we have several very interesting and talented speakers, starting with our September meeting. Please consider inviting a friend, co-worker, or neighbor.

September: Tammy Perakis Wallace, assistant director, will take us on a tour of the current show at the Ross Museum, the art of Nancy Frank and Linda Sappington (article on page 2). Meeting will be at 7:30 at the Ross Art Museum, 60 S. Sandusky.

October: Laura Kolb, executive director of Deaf Think Positive, a counseling center for addicts who are deaf or deaf/blind. Laura will talk at the Delaware Library about how she uses art to reach her clients.

November: Steve Hirsch, photographer from Powell, will talk about his exhibit at Gallery 22

December: Holiday get-together? Looking for someone to host.

January: Dave Senecal, abstract painter, will talk about his exhibit at Gallery 22

February: James Mellick, a sculptor from Milford Center, will talk about his travelling show Wounded Warrior Dogs which will be on exhibit at the Ohio Craft Museum.

March: Julie Richardson, pysanky (Ukrainian egg) artist from Perrysburg, Ohio.

April: TBA, unconfirmed

May: TBA, unconfirmed

TIME TO PAY YOUR DUES! It's a new season, so that means it's time to pay your dues for the year. Membership is $25 and the money helps pay for our terrific speakers. In order to take part in any of our exhibits, you must be a member in good standing. That means you must have paid your dues and attended a minimum of two meetings. We try to make it easy by allowing you to pay at a meeting or by mailing it in. Here is a link to the form: http://www.delawareartguild.com/dag\_membership\_form.pdf. Please include the form with your payment.

NEXT MEETING:
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, AT 7:30 PM
AT THE RICHARD M. ROSS ART MUSEUM,
60 S. SANDUSKY STREET

Join us as assistant director, Tammy Wallace, takes us on a tour of the current exhibit, "A Show of Horses" at OWU's Ross Museum. The show includes paintings by Colorado artist, Nancy B. Frank, a 1971 OWU graduate who has created large-scale portraits of horses participating in Delaware's Little Brown Jug harness race. The exhibit also features bronze sculptures of horses created by Lebanon, Ohio, artist Lynda Sappington, as well as artifacts from the Goshen, New York-based Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame, home of the world's largest collection of Currier & Ives trotting prints.
