

DELAWARE
ARTIST
GUILD

A Message From The President

Our next meeting will be Monday, November 24. We will meet at The Delaware Library, 84 E. Winter St. at the usual time, 7:30 pm.

We will have the normal officer and chairperson reports, finalize plans for the Holiday Party, and follow-up on formation of a critique group, a possible field trip to the Wexner, and other ideas for guild activities.

Our speaker will be Megan Nedds. She will tell us about her work illustrating children's books and felting.

If you missed your chance with the October cancellation, don't forget to renew your membership dues for 2014-15.

I'm looking forward to seeing you, at the meeting.

Ken Hildebrand

November 24, 2014	Megan Nedds Child Book Illustration / Felting	Delaware Library 84 E. Winter St.
12/8/2014	Holiday Party	Mary Williams's Home
January 26, 2015	Dammie Fischer - Dryer Lint Sculpture	Delaware Library 84 E. Winter St
February 23, 2015	John Cohen - Religious Art	St. Peter's Church 45 W. Winter St
March 23, 2015	Jan Alsop - Portraits Self Portrait/Selfies Exhibit	Arts Castle 190 W. Winter St.
April 27, 2015	Frank Hobbs - Painting	Gallery 22 22 E Winter St
June 1, 2015	Tammy Wallace Little/Nation Exhibit	Ross Museum 60 S. Sandusky St.

NOVEMBER SPEAKER: MEGAN NEDDS

Megan is a student at the University of Findlay, studying for a double major in children's book illustration and graphic design. As her former high school art teacher, I was always impressed with Megan's talent and attention to detail in her drawings. And her work just keeps getting better and better. She has also started a business, selling needle-felted animals on Etsy. Her business is called Woolen Wagon Felt Creations. See her interview online at: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rk1fvVd0IKI>. The same attention to detail and precision that I always observed in her drawings have translated beautifully to her felted animals.

Kris Kolb

